ry on a straight up or down vote now.

The amendment, sponsored by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, would bar the use of funds for retaining U.S. troops in Cambodia after July 1 and would allow no money after that to support advisers or instructors for Cambodian troops or U.S. air support for Cambodian soldiers.

"We're not trying to restrict the presidential rights. We're trying to exert some of our own," Church told the Senate.

"Do you agree that the President has the right to protect our forces?" asked Dole, who introduced an amendment that would bar funds except for this purpose.

"If the safety of American troops is really involved the President can make his case with Congress," Church said.

If that is so, replied Dole, "the President must come to Congress to protect the lives of Americans who may be under attack at that very moment."

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., who introduced still another amendment that would bar Cambodian-like incursions into Laos and Red China, said the President can use the excuse of protecting American troops any time he wants whether it is actually true.

"I thought it was strange that the President ordered the invasion of a foreign country with thousands of troops but said he wouldn't go farther than 20 miles," said Gore. "The tragic mistake was in crossing the border of that country."

The Cooper-Church proposal, tacked onto the sales bill in the Foreign Relations Committee, will be the last amendment voted on after a half-dozen or so weaker versions are offered as substitutes.

In New York, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said support is growing in the Senate for the antiwar measures.

Kennedy said at a news conference that 34 senators already support a proposed amendment co-sponsored by Sens. George McGovern, D-S.D., and Max Baucus, R-Ore., to require withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Vietnam by mid-1971.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott, meanwhile, was working on an amendment in another effort to bridge the gap between the administration and the antiwar forces.

He read the GOP caucus a version permitting the President to send U.S. troops to Cambodia to protect American

Very Costly Reading, Math Program to Be Launched by the OEO

By TOM SEPPY
A Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A multimillion dollar program in which private educational firms will be paid according to how well they teach basic reading and mathematics skills to poor children will be launched this fall by the anti-poverty agency.

The Office of Economic Opportunity expects to announce next month the six educational firms and the 24 school districts in which the experimental program will be carried out.

The experiment, to cost between $3.5 million and $5.5 million, will cover an estimated 12,000 to 17,000 children in grades one through three and seven through nine.

Donald Rumsfeld, OEO director, said at a news conference Thursday if the project is successful, an approach that closely measures the effectiveness of educational programs by how well students achieve "could indeed revolutionize education in this country."

The OEO said the experiment's purpose is to determine how well a variety of technological and "incentive-based" techniques can improve basic reading and math skills of students with below-par achievement in these two crucial subjects.

"Results may provide evidence that the society has at its disposal the means for upgrading the basic learning skills of students whose proficiency levels are well below their peers," the OEO said.

Firms will use a variety of approaches, including new educational technology, such as teaching machines and programmed instruction, to teach the basic skills for up to one hour a day in both reading and mathematics.

Students in the experimental group will be closely measured against the achievement of children in control groups who will forces in Vietnam "after consultation with appropriate committees of Congress." But he later was considering changing that to include consultation with leaders of both political parties in Congress.

Scott called a Monday meeting of Republican senators to go over the matter.

be taught by methods currently in use.

Youngsters in the experimental group will be taught either using only new technology or only incentives or a combination of new technology and incentives.

Office for the Aged Operates 15 Projects

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Office on Aging operates 15 projects in Arkansas to provide aid and activities for the elderly.

Most of them are small local centers in cities as large as Little Rock and as small as Deer.

If most of the estimated 220,000 persons age 65 or older in the state do not frequent these centers, it may be due in large part to the fact that few know the centers exist.

"That is one of our biggest problems," said Robert Windle, a field representative of the office.

The office, with Title III federal funds, helps finance the centers. The total cost in the office's funds in 1969 was $249,836, Windle said.

Under the financing plan worked out by the federal government, the state pays 75 per cent and the federal government 25 per cent of the cost of operating a project for the elderly in its first year of existence.

The state's share in the second year is 60 per cent and in the third year the financing is on a 50-50 state-federal basis.

At the discretion of the director of the state office, the 50-50 arrangement may be extended beyond the third year for projects that appear to be on the threshold of self-sufficient financing, Windle said.

"The projects are supposed to bring about community involvement to solve the problems of the elderly," he said. "Usually, if it can't be done in three or four years, then involvement isn't likely to be developed for some time."

That, he said, is why the financing is patterned on a three-year basis.

The centers are "recreational, drop-in" places where the elderly can congregate with those of similar age groups and engage in activities that include quilting, work in ceramics or just an easy game of dominoes.

"After a lifetime of work, some don't care to work any more," Windle said. "Others like to pursue crafts they know, such as woodwork, and the centers make provision for these activities."

He said the centers represent only a small step toward creating situations where the elderly can be productive or creative individuals.

"The whole emphasis in our society today is on the young," Windle said. "The old have been forgotten."

There is no clearly specified age limit for participation in the centers. "Some are old at 55," Windle said. "Some are young at 80. It just depends on whether they want to participate or not."

The centers financed with help from the state Office on Aging include three in North Little Rock, two in Little Rock, and one each in Deer, Salem, Fort Smith, Camden, Fayetteville, Clarksville, Cassville, Jonesboro, Newark and Texarkana.

Final Rites for Walter Reuther

By A. F. MAHAN
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Leaders of industry and government join those of labor today at funeral rites for Walter P. Reuther, 24-year president of 1.6 million United Auto Workers, and his wife May.

The Reuthers and four others died in the crash of a union-chartered jet on a trip to northern Lower Michigan last Saturday.

The setting for the double funeral was Detroit's Ford Auditorium, a Civic Center showplace and a gift from the automotive family.

The grained oak caskets rested parallel and alone on the huge stage, a golden curtain and flowers forming a backdrop. No funeral procession was planned. The bodies were to be cremated.

Loudspeakers were set up to carry the rites to those who gathered outside.

but I know I will have to be on tap weekends beginning next fall."

One reason Mrs. Carruth anticipates "being on tap weekends" is that CBC is making another surprise announcement with the news of her appointment.

The President's Council of CBC has voted, "in view of the number of requests received and anticipated," to provide dormitory rooms for coeds for on-campus housing beginning with the fall term.

The fourth floor of Maurelian Hall, now occupied by the three floors below it by men students, will be reserved for women's quarters. The space will accommodate up to 40 girls. A separate suite will be reserved for a dorm counselor.

With gleaming eyes, Mrs. Carruth said, "The first thing I saw was that there isn't nearly enough closet space for girls. We'll have to redecorate, get some new curtains and such—fix it all up so girls will like to live there. Both boys and girls will share the building, but we'll have security doors on each end of the fourth floor."

"The Brothers—they're wonderful—are very austere, you know. Women on the campus is sort of a shock to them, except for the younger brothers."

CBC decided to admit women for two reasons, she said. "Many boys don't want to go to an all-male school and many girls have asked to be admitted."

"We've already accepted one girl. And about 15 others have applied."

"I'll help the brothers decide how to admit the girls. We'll have to be very careful about who we accept to live in a coed dormitory."

"Just think, we'll be registering girls for the first time Aug. 27."

Cool Air to Spread Over Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas will experience cooler temperature for the next two days as a cold front moves through the state. Cool air will spread over the entire state tonight and Saturday.

The U. S. Weather Bureau is predicting showers and thunderstorms tonight and Saturday, with the cloud cover gradually clearing Saturday afternoon and evening.

A large high pressure area is behind the thunderstorms and fair, cool weather will be the weather word through Monday.

High Thursday ranged from 86 at Little Rock, Memphis and Jonesboro to 80 at Harrison.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville and Harrison, 62; Jonesboro, 63; Pine Bluff, 66; Texarkana, 68; El Dorado, 62; Memphis, 66; Little Rock, 64; and Fort Smith, 65.

Precipitation reported during the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today included .19 of an inch of rain at Fayetteville. No other rain was reported.

Justice Dept. to Investigate Shootings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has announced plans to investigate the deaths of six Augustas, Ga., Negroes who were shot during rioting there Monday night.

Meanwhile, doctors who have examined the bodies are unable to agree on how many times the victims were shot.

The Justice Department's Civil Rights Division will conduct the investigation in an attempt to determine whether federal civil rights laws were violated, the department said Thursday.

The men were killed during Monday night's disorders, in which Augusta police said there were incidents of looting and arson.

The disorders were touched off by the beating death of a Negro youth in the Richmond County Jail in Augusta. The civil rights division is also investigating that death, the department said.

The Richmond County Commission Thursday ordered immediate autopsies on all six victims after doctors disagreed earlier over the number of times the victims were wounded and whether they were shot in the back.

flation," Arthur F. Burns, the Federal Reserve Board chairman, told Congress Thursday.

Although not an official member of the administration, Burns was President Nixon's chief domestic adviser until January and now is as responsible as any other individual for the health of the money and credit systems.

These were the developments Thursday, a day heavy with economic news:

—The Commerce Department said prices during January, February and March rose at an annual rate of 5.4 per cent, a quarter of a point higher than its earlier estimate. With the recent 6 per cent federal pay raise figured in, the increase was 6.4 per cent, highest since the Korean war.

At the same time, actual production dropped 3 per cent, the largest since the 1960 recession, instead of the 1.2 per cent listed in preliminary figures.

—Output of the nation's factories dropped almost one-half of one per cent during April to 170.4 per cent of the 1957-59 benchmark. It reversed a similar March increase and continued a general slide that began last August.

—The stock market dropped 9.05 points, bringing the bellweather Dow-Jones industrial average to 684.79, the lowest in more than seven years.

The market has slid almost 40 points since April 28, when President Nixon assured a group of visiting businessmen, "Frankly, if I had any money, I'd be buying stocks right now." Asked Thursday at a news briefing if Nixon still stood by that, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler smiled, took a sip of coffee, and went on to the next question.

—Personal income gained a record $17.8 billion during April, due entirely to the Social Security and federal pay increases. Private wages and salaries declined $1.5 billion, at an annual rate after seasonal adjustment.

—To the surprise of almost no one, corporate profits dipped $6.4 billion to an annual rate of $85 billion during the first quarter. As a result, corporations' tax liability fell $3.1 billion, giving strength to administration fears the current fiscal year—ending next month—may produce a budget deficit.

—The balance of payments took a sharp turn for the worse in the first quarter, with all international transactions, showing a deficit of $1.73 billion after a $332 million surplus in the October-December quarter last year.

Government economists said the figures weren't unexpected. Treasury Undersecretary Charles E. Walker said the figures "would not indicate to me that the picture was any different from yesterday before the figures came out."

And Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy, speaking in Utah, said he saw signs "that the worst may be over."

$100-a-Year Pay Hikes to Teachers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Little Rock School Board approved a $100-a-year increase in the base pay of teachers in a special meeting Thursday.

The salary increases will not apply to custodial or maintenance workers, secretaries, unclassified supervisors and directors or superintendents.

The pay increases will cost $133,000.

nounced that elements of a brigade task force of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division maneuvered from the western front of War Zone C northwest of Saigon 40 miles northeastward toward the Cambodian town of Mimot on Highway 7.

The 1,500 American troops joined another task force exploring an area about eight miles long and four miles wide.

South Vietnamese headquarters announced that thousands of infantrymen had been withdrawn from another front in Cambodia bordering the western Mekong Delta.

The allied drives in Cambodia also have restricted the enemy's efforts in South Vietnam, informants said.

"Continuing personnel and logistics problems also hamper his efforts," said one source. "We expect our operations in Cambodia to compound his problems in the border provinces."

Informed sources said they have seen Communist command campaign plans calling for sustained action in South Vietnam and stepped up activity in certain areas, but that the allied thrusts in Cambodia have prevented them from carrying out the plans.

U.S. troops worked to move out hundreds of tons of munitions and food found in North Vietnamese base camps.

The allied commands say their drives into Cambodia have killed 7,209 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops and captured 11,731 weapons, hundreds of tons of ammunition and 2,650 tons of rice.

American losses were put at 115 killed and 474 wounded; while South Vietnamese reported their casualties at 397 soldiers killed and 1,690 wounded.

About 14,000 U.S. troops and 20,000 South Vietnamese are committed to the drive aimed at destroying North Vietnamese and Viet Cong bases inside Cambodia which have been used to launch numerous attacks across the 600-mile border with South Vietnam.

U.S. forces have made small contacts over the past 24 hours. Four Americans and 14 North Vietnamese were reported killed and 14 Americans wounded in four clashes inside Cambodia ranging from 100 to more than 200 miles north of Saigon.

Sources said the enemy appears to be evacuating rear bases and establishing new ones deeper inside Cambodia.

NEW YORK (AP) — A retired Wisconsin postmaster gains contentment with life by transforming a piece of hardwood into a bowl. When he can find a black walnut burl, he becomes ecstatic.

A woman in New Hampshire sits at her floor loom and weaves and ties unusual materials into oddly shaped contemporary designs.

A sculptor in Berkeley, Calif., has his own foundry and casts his own massive bronze pieces.

A Japanese-American woman in New Jersey whose touch is as light as a butterfly wing sits at a potter's wheel and gives shape, form and vitality to a lump of wet clay.

These were among the artists and craftsmen whose life and work were sketched Thursday night during an ABC special designed to document the resurgence of folk art and handicrafts in this country. It was actually a reminder that in a depersonalized computer age, people need the identification and satisfaction of working with their hands.

This has become a do-it-yourself nation. Suburban householders are weekend cabinet makers. A couple of books on needlepoint have become best sellers. Many people are Sunday painters and the fastest growing hobby among women is hand weaving.

The program, "With These Hands," did no more than suggest the importance of satisfying the creative urge and more often meandered around the subject. The people chosen to illustrate the theme were, while interesting enough, as often

by Helen Bottel

ALAS, HORATIO, WE KNEW HIM WHEN. . .

Dear Helen: Do you have room for a guest spot? The following was written by Bruce Helberg, editor of a suburban newspaper near Seattle—the Bellevue American. I think it merits repeating.—READER

We've often wondered during the past year or so how one of Horatio Alger's young heroes would have made out if he had been born about 18 years ago instead of around the turn of the century.

Horatio's hero, we should explain to those a lot younger than we are, was the fictional epitome of the "boy who made good" in the face of more adversity than we care to think about.

But his problems were simple. He was an orphan, which enabled him to escape the curse of permissiveness at home. There were no child labor laws or union monopolies, so he was able to get a job while still in his teens.

And he didn't have to attend a formal university, so he got his degree from the school of hard knocks.

There were still a number of unbroken street lights in New York, so he was able to read his books after getting through work. And John D. Rockefeller was right in his prime, so he got an occasional extra dime to augment his regular meals in the free lunch counter at the nearest saloon.

He was even able to take correspondence courses, because the U.S. mails were still going through regularly!

Since he wasn't in school, he didn't have any fellow students pushing marijuana at him, and because there was nothing anti-social about taking a bath, he took his turn regularly at the corner fire hydrant.

He was industrious and worked 14 hours a day, so he had professionals with well-established reputations as amateur craftsmen.

It showed a California man who creates enormous bold wood sculptures by using a chain saw instead of chisel and mallet, a Mankato, Minn. glassblower was seen demonstrating his techniques to a group of students.

The hour was a partial answer to the currently most popular criticism of commercial television: "Why doesn't it ever show some of the good things about America instead of the voracious or bad things?"

Well, the people seemed to be doing good, nonvoracious things.

The New Hampshire tapestry weaver came closest to carrying the program's message when she remarked that "there is something for everybody" but the trick is for each person to find that handwork appeals.

Now Husbands Say a Few Things That Wives Get Tired of Hearing

By Oswald & James Jacoby

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Husbandly remarks that wives get tired of hearing:

"Yes, I heard every word you said. The trouble is that I've heard them all 10,000 times before."

"Nagging will get you nowhere."

"Well, how can I take you out, when you say you have absolutely nothing to wear?"

"This meal looks awful familiar. Didn't you cook it before?"

"I don't mind ordinary leftovers, but I don't like leftover leftovers."

"If you wanted to live like a rich woman, why didn't you marry a rich man?"

"You pick up after the children—so why do you holler so much about picking up after me?"

"What on God's green earth do women know about politics anyway? They never vote for the man they vote for or against his face."

"How many times have I told you not to phone me at the office unless it's a real emergency? I don't feel that the fact you've just found your first gray hair is that kind of an emergency."

"What if junior doesn't want to go to college? Maybe he can become a plumber or a television repair man and keep us all in comfort."

"You run the home; I'll run the office."

"Lower your voice, Bert! Here comes my battle ax—and she's got ears like three microphones."

"Go on a second honeymoon? Are you out of your mind? Do you know what our first honeymoon cost? And what did we really get out of it?"

"I wouldn't mind if your mother just visited us now and then, but does she have to try and haunt our house on a permanent basis? Why don't you just invite her for next Halloween?"

All right, now that I've got a firm grip on my Martini, calm down and tell me what happened. Did one of the kids lose a front tooth or the car have kittens in the shower?"

"If I ran my job the way you do this house, the whole family would be in a breadline by the end of the week."

"Okay, if you have to get it off your chest, get it off your chest. But when you finally run out of breath, let me remind you of one thing: there are laws now about creating noise pollution."

"I'm not knocking marriage but, looking back, all in all I had even more fun in the army."

Free or Low Priced Lunch Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon signed today a bill he said would assure a free or reduced-price school lunch for every child from a family whose income falls below the poverty line.

The measure would add about eight million children from low-income families to the number now receiving the lunches. Depending on the economic status of the children, the lunches would cost no more than 20 cents and could be free. It also authorizes an experimental school breakfast program.

The bill is an open-ended authorization, subject to later appropriations. About $400 million is now spent on school lunch programs, and officials estimated another $200 million would be required to meet the bill's authorizations.

14 Going After the Triple Crown

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — Dust Commander, the winner of the Kentucky Derby and $181,604, is in the Preakness. So is Hark The Lark, winner of two non-stakes and $10,846.

In between these two extremes fall 12 other 3-year-olds who will take a shot at the first $200,000 race in the history of the Triple Crown.

If all 14 go to the post at 5:40 p.m., EDT, for the 1 1/4 mile classic, the gross purse will be $203,800, with $151,300 going to the winner.

The 95th Preakness at Pimlico will be televised by CBS from 5-6 p.m. EDT, and broadcast on radio from 5:25 to 5:45 p.m.

In order to give Dust Commander a chance at becoming the first Triple Crown winner since Citation won the Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes in 1948, owner Bob Lehmann had to supplement the colt for $10,000 Thursday.

A check for $12,000, which also covered the normal entry and starting fees of $1,000 each, was signed by and presented to the racing secretary by Lehmann's 19-year-old son, Fred.

Seven of the 17 colts beaten by Dust Commander in the Derby also were entered for the Preakness—Raymond M. Curtis, My Dad George, runner-up in Kentucky; Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' High Echelon, the Derby third, and Personality; Her-Jac Stable's Naskra; Sonny Werblin's Silent Screen, William C. Robinson Jr.'s Admiral's Shield and Dr. Richard Kuhn's and Walter Hickey's Robin's Bug.

Joining Lawrence P. Boyce's Hark The Lark in a shot at an upset will be Briardale Farm's Stop Time, James P. Mill's Buzkashi, Nelson B. Hunt's Sir Wiggie, Mrs. Merle Weisman's On Fiddle, and Rex Ellsworth's Plenty Old.

Each starter will carry 126 pounds.

Mike Manganello will send Dust Commander, the early favorite, out of the No. 10 post with early second pick My Dad George, ridden by Ray Broussard just inside of him. Silent Screen, third choice and ridden by John L. Rotz, will leave from No. 3, just outside of the Jacobs entry of High Echelon on the rail and Personality. Larry Adams will ride High Echelon, and Eddie Belmonte will have the mount on Personality.

Personality scared trainer John Jacobs when he shied, unseated his exercise boy and ran back to his barn Thursday morning. However, he was not hurt and returned to the track with blinkers on to work three furlongs in 40 seconds.

Other jockey assignments are Naskra, Ron Turcotte; Stop Time, Bill Hartack; Buzkashi, Michael Hole; Sir Wiggie, Howard Grant; Admiral's Shield, Jimmy Nichols; Plenty Old, Hank Moreno, and Robin's Bug, Leroy Moyers.

No riding assignments have been made for Hark The Lark and Oh Fudge.

Arts and Letters, second to Majestic Prince in the Preakness last year, but who went on to become the horse of the year, headlines the racing at other tracks Saturday.

The Paul Mellon colt was flown to California and will go in the $50,000-added California at Hollywood Park against a likely field of seven including Nodouble and Ack Ack. A4L will carry 124 pounds, including jockey Braulio Baeza, in the 1 1/4 mile and probably will be the odds-on favorite.

A big field is in prospect for the $50,000-added California at Hollywood Park against a likely field of seven including Nodouble and Ack Ack. A4L will carry 124 pounds, including jockey Braulio Baeza, in the 1 1/4 mile and probably will be the odds-on favorite.

Trevino and Player Tie First Round

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Lee Trevino paid tribute to Gary Player after tying the little South African for the first-round lead in the $125,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

"It always helps to play behind Gary," the quick-talking Mexican-American said Thursday. "He does such a wonderful job repairing the greens. He's out there tamping down every spike mark on every green."

"Why, that little man is bent over so much he looks like he's planting corn."

Trevino and Player, the top two money winners this year, matched 66s, four-under-par and led the massive assault on the proud old Colonial Country club course.

In all, a record 27 players bettered par 70 on the 7,142-yard layout, breaking the previous record of 20.

Among them was the limping little figure of Ben Hogan, a five-time winner of this event and playing in his home town for the first time in three years. He birdied the 16th and 17th for a 69, well among the leaders.

"It's always tough to play in your hometown," the 57-year-old master said.

Most of the leaders said the demanding layout played easier than in the past, citing the relatively short rough in particular. But both Player and Trevino had a different idea.

"I don't know of a better or tougher golf course in the world," said the globe-trotting Player. "It was everything a good golf course should have. It's an ideal course."

"I've always said this is the hardest golf course I've ever played," said Trevino, the No. 1 money-winner this season and already a two-time champion.

"I think the changes have made it easier. But any course is easy when you're hitting the ball like I am."

He didn't miss a green, hitting his irons with rifle accuracy.

But he and Player held only a one-stroke lead over a group of five at 67-Frank Beard, R.H. Sikes, Johnny Pott, Gay Brewer and Bob Smith. Four more, Bruce Devlin, Jim Weichers, Terry Wilcox and Tom Shaw, were locked at 68.

Hogan, of course, headed the group at 69 that also included Bert Yancey, Gene Littler, Art Wall and Dave Stockton.

Jack Nicklaus had a 71. Defending champion Gardner Dickinson took a 73. Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper are not competing.

"I putted extremely well," said Player, who has had troubles on the green in recent weeks. "I played well, but it was the putting that did it. The ones I missed just burned the hole."

Things Get Worse for the Giants

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Just when the San Francisco Giants figured things couldn't get much worse, guess what happened. They did.

The Giants opened a series in Los Angeles Thursday night with slugging first baseman Willie McCovey (10 homers, 32 RBI) doubtful for the entire four-game set with a lingering minor eye ailment and a sore shoulder, to boot.

Then, the Dodgers shelled ace right-hander Juan Marichal with a five-run third inning, boosting his earned run average to a whopping 6.94.

In the fifth, catcher Dick Dietz was struck on the left foot by a foul ball and had to take his .375 batting average and league-leading 35 RBI to the sidelines.

To top it all off, the Dodgers sent a pitcher named Sandy to the mound and the result was a 6-3 triumph.

That was one of only four games in the majors Thursday. Elsewhere in the National League, Houston defeated San Diego 3-1 and St. Louis outslugged Pittsburgh 11-7. The New York Mets-Chicago Cubs and Montreal-Philadelphia games were rained out.

Minnesota turned back Kansas City 5-2 in the only scheduled American League action.

Marichal, 1-1, was staked to a 1-0 lead in the first inning on Bobby Bonds' single, Don Mason's double and a sacrifice fly by Willie Mays, who was playing first in place of McCovey.

But the Dodgers erupted in the third. Singles by Maury Wills and Manny Mota put runners on second and third, Mota taking second on the throw. Willie Davis singled them both home, stole second, went to third on Wes Parker's infield hit and scored on Willie Crawford's grounder. Billy Grabarkewitz capped the outburst with his third homer of the season and Tom Haller's single kayoed Marichal.

Sandy—Vance, not Koufax—checked the Giants on eight hits for his third victory in four decisions before Jim Brewer came on to get the last out.

Joe Pepton's tie-breaking home run in the sixth helped Houston's Larry Dierker run his record to 7-2. It was Dierker's fourth consecutive triumph this season and the sixth straight time he has beaten the Padres, after losing his first meeting last year.

The Astros got an insurance run in the seventh when Clarence Gaston dropped Jim Wynn's long drive for a three-base error and Denis Menke hit a sacrifice fly.

The Cardinals snapped a 7-7 tie with Pittsburgh by scoring four times with two out in the eighth. Lou Brock hit the tie-breaking single and Joe Hagge drove in two more runs with another single.

The Cards scored five times in the sixth, featuring Richie Allen's 12th homer, a solo shot, and Vic Davalillo's three-run double. Willie Stargell homered twice for the Pirates, driving in three runs.

Rod Carew delivered a two-run single after Paul Ruffitt doubled home the tie-breaking run in the fourth inning in Minnesota's win over Kansas City. Carew had three singles in the game and now has nine hits in his last 12 at-bats.

Tony Oliva and Rich Reese had run-scoring singles in the first for the Twins but the Royals tied it in the top of the fourth on Bob Oliver's single, Joe Keough's triple and a sacrifice fly.

Tom Hall, who took over for Luis Tiant in the fifth, allowed only one hit over the final five innings and fanned seven.

to a 7-3 Texas League victory Thursday night.

William Grant's second homer of the season started the Shreveport assault in the second inning. The Braves added single runs in the fourth and fifth before bunting four hits in the seventh inning to score three times and open a 7-1 lead.

Tom Kelley scattered seven hits in seven innings to pick up his second pitching victory. Dale Roberts worked the final two innings.

George Winslow clouted his first homer of the season for Arkansas.

Olympics to Decide on South Africa

By JOHN FARROW
Associated Press Sports Writer
AMSTERDAM (AP) — The Supreme Council for African Sports' bid to oust the South African National Olympic Committee will be decided today by the International Olympic Committee.

The attack on South Africa is based on that country's apartheid racial policies.

The discussion by the IOC comes at a time when Marylebone Cricket Club, ruling body of cricket in England, is being called on to cancel the tour of South Africa's all-white cricket squad.

Some African and Asian nations have said that if England allows the cricket tour to proceed then they will pull out of the British Commonwealth Games in July at Edinburgh, Scotland.

Opposition to the cricket tour gives added significance to the move to get South Africa ousted from the Olympics.

Frank Braun, president of SANOC, said, "We were up until four o'clock in the morning preparing our mode of attack for today. We have been very busy keeping our ear to the ground. The general feeling is that we have a good chance of staying in the Olympic movement."

South Africa was barred from the 1964 and 1968 games because of its apartheid policies, but the IOC still continues to recognize SANOC.

If the IOC decides to expel SANOC, then South Africa's last link with the Olympics has disappeared.

Rhodesia Has Withdrawn From Meet

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesia, faced with the refusal of other countries to play against it, withdrew Thursday from this year's Davis Cup competition.

Guy Hodder, secretary of the Rhodesian Lawn Tennis Association, said Thursday night a cable had been sent to the Davis Cup European Zone committee withdrawing the Rhodesian entry.

Sinden Shocks Bruins Fans by Quitting

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins are in the market for a new coach—and who wants to try to follow the footsteps of Harry Sinden?

Sinden, 37, shocked the sports world by quitting the Bruins Thursday just four days after leading the club to its first Stanley Cup in 29 years.

Sinden, who led the Bruins from a fourth place finish to a world championship in only four weeks at the helm, decided to call it quits while a champ in his hockey career.

Experienced in engineering, Sinden elected to go into the business field rather than continue at the helm of a National Hockey League power.

"After many years of amateur and professional hockey in the United States and Canada, I am going on to exciting new challenges and opportunities in mass residential construction," he said.

Sinden elected to join an old friend, David Stirling Jr., who is chairman of the board of Stirling Homex Corp. of Avon, N.Y.

A frustrated player who couldn't ever make the NHL, Sinden was given his break four years ago. He led Oklahoma City to the Central Hockey League title and was promoted to coach of the Bruins when Milt Schmidt moved into the front office as general manager.

Everyone asked: "Who's Harry?" Sinden was unknown in pro circles, even though he had played with many teams, including the Canadian National team which beat Russia for the world amateur championship in 1958.

Sinden, then only 33, led Oklahoma City to the Central League title in 1966 and was elevated to the Bruins. An unknown, he and Schmidt helped rebuild the Bruins.

In his first year, Sinden's Bruins finished last. The next they finished third. Then, in the 1968-69 season they finished second. This year, the Bruins grabbed everything, taking their first Stanley Cup in 29 years.

Sinden decided to dump a $25,000 a year job, but elected to take security. He has four daughters, including three approaching college age.

Weston Adams Sr., board chairman, Weston Adams Jr., club president, and Charlie Mulcahey, vice president and treasurer now must get together and pick a new coach. They're job is going to be a tough one.

Says Bobby Orr, an NHL super star, who has collected more awards than anyone in NHL history: "We are losing a damn good man. We did the playing, but he was there working with us every night."

Said center Derek Sanderson: "I hope he reconsiders. To lose him as a coach is serious. It's a blow to all of us. A new coach won't be able to handle the club like Harry."

Editors Plan to Discuss Sports Gifts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Should sportswriters accept gifts from the teams they are covering?

Should baseball writers serve as official scorers and if they do, should they get paid for it?

A panel of newspaper editors here for a convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors explored Thursday the integrity and ethics involved in sports writing but did not take any action as a group.

Many newspapers allow their writers to serve as official scorers. The American and National baseball leagues pay such scorers $30 per game.

"I see no excuse for its continuance," the main panel speaker, Malcolm F. Mallette, managing director of the American Press Institute, said of the practice of using writers as official scorers.

Mallette, former professional pitcher and onetime sports editor, declared, "You're giving him something he doesn't deserve."

Editor Derick Daniels of the Detroit Free Press considered the concern over scoring a trifling matter and recalled the old days "of a small salary and a tacit understanding that we'd get all the freeloaders we could handle."

However, Daniels said he won't permit any Free Press sports staffer to accept anything, not even a free seat on the team plane.

"Some of us are still in the position of letting the writers travel with the teams and accept gifts," said Richard H. Leonard, editor of the Milwaukee Journal. "We shouldn't owe anything to anybody."

Mallette said not all sports writers are at fault, but said he disapproved of these examples of relations between a sports writer and his news source.

"An auto racing writer buys his cars at the manufacturer's cost."

"A well-known sportswriter wrote the narration for the annual promotional film of a major league baseball team he covers."

The panelists agreed that sports pages must change to meet the challenge of television sports coverage.

Play-by-play accounts of ball games are giving way, Mallette said, to magazine-style treatment that informs readers of what lies behind the final score.

Owner Can Watch 2 of His Teams

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Denver businessman Bill Daniels can catch two of his sports enterprises in action in the same city when the Los Angeles Stars open against the Indiana Pacers tonight in the American Basketball Association championship playoff series.

Daniels, who recently purchased the Stars, also has entered several cars for the Indianapolis 500-mile race, including one Lloyd Ruby of Wichita Falls, Tex., is driving in weekend qualifications.

Indiana, runner-up in last year's ABA championship to Oakland, is favored over the young Los Angeles team. The Pacers, coached by Bob Leonard, had a 59-25 season record, best in the league. They breezed through the two rounds of the Eastern Division playoffs with an 8-1 mark, brushing off Carolina 4-0 and taking Kentucky 4-1.

Coach Bill Sharman's Stars finished strong in the Western loop, making fourth place with a 43-41 record and earning a playoff berth for the first time in the club history.

If underdog Los Angeles wins the title, the Stars will maintain a trend of ABA winners by moving next season. Although not finalized, the team's new headquarters probably will be Albuquerque, N.M.

The Pittsburgh Pipers, winners of the first ABA title in 1968, moved to Minnesota but then returned to Pittsburgh. Oakland moved to Washington after taking the 1969 crown.

No move is expected for the Pacers who have drawn more than 350,000 fans so far this season.

Los Angeles gained the finale by topping Dallas in six games and first-place Denver in five.

The two teams will meet for the second match in the best-of-7 series Sunday afternoon in Indianapolis. The game will be televised nationally by CBS with Indianapolis blacked out.

The Pacers, holding a 4-2 edge over the Stars during the regular season, have been led by Roger Brown and Fred Lewis in the playoffs.

A standout for the Stars has been Craig Raymond, 6-foot-11 center, who will be trying to contain Indiana's Mel Daniels.

The series moves to Anaheim, Calif., for games 3 and 4 Monday and Tuesday nights.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS
BETHEL'S YOUTH PROMOTE
The High School graduating youth of Bethel A.M.E. Church at 418 South Laurel Street here in Hope, in cooperation with the youth department of the church's administration is sponsoring a Baccalaureate Service Emphasis Sunday at 10:50 a.m.

Their commentary follows:
That a candidate for graduation from a prescribed course of formal or informal learning must seek from God alone, guidance, strength and spiritual wisdom if idealism is to be attained, is a historic as well as a biblical conceptual heritage. This legacy dates back to ancient civilization involving graphic contributions of Moses in the 13th century B.C., King Solomon in the 10th century B.C., and the Philosophic schools of the Stoics and Epicureans in the 3rd century B.C.

The middle ages found men as Constantine and other Arabs who greatly influenced the development of medicine, mathematics, astronomy and geometry seeking Divine endowment in their search for learning.

The founding fathers of our great nation, Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Franklin and Lincoln to name only a few, are indicative in their personalized documents of a nation under God.

We, the youth of this generation believe that if ever there was a time that God should be foremost in our lives, or in the lives of the people of the world, that time is now.

If social change has made it necessary for any community agency to abandon organized scholastic Baccalaureate Services, then we are abandoning the most precious source that life has. God is the source, and social change does not relieve us of the responsibility of seeking Him.

Little Mario Is Back in Action

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Little Mario Andretti was back in action at the Indianapolis Speedway today, aiming for at least a front row shot at the Rich Memorial Day racing classic he won a year ago.

The 5-foot-4 Andretti, returning with another new car to replace the one he wrecked earlier in the week, joined other drivers in a final day of shake-downs leading to Saturday's run for the 500 pole position.

The conditions under which they were to work today were not expected to be ideal, however. An overnight rain left the famed old Speedway soggy and almost certainly slower. Furthermore, weather forecasters said more showers likely would fall during the day.

The 33-car field, representing the fastest cars in an original entry list of more than 70, will be determined in two weekends of qualifying. The fastest car in Saturday's first round was the pole, worth $10,000, and gobs of prestige.

Now They Can Get a Little Later Sleep

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Miles celebrated their son's 16th birthday by sleeping late.

Their son, Pat, is a swimmer whose practice schedule calls for a 60 to 90-minute workout before school.

"I was so glad to see him turn 16," Mrs. Miles said. "Now he drives himself to practice, and we get to sleep late."

Miles is 17 now, but during the school year his schedule is the same — he's off for the swimming pool by 6 a.m.

The rigorous schedule paid off recently when he finished eighth in the 1969 freestyle event at the National AAU championships.

"I've got my eye on 1972 (Olympics) but I'm eighth and it takes a lot to work up to No. 3," said Miles, a junior at Little Rock Hall High School. The top three swimmers in each event are selected to represent the United States in the Olympics.

His immediate goal is to negotiate the 1650 in 16 minutes and he'll continue to work out 3 1/2 hours daily during the summer.

"I went down 41 seconds this year and I think I can make 16 minutes," he said. "If I work hard, and with the good competition you're up against in the national meets, I believe I'll be able to do it."

"As I mature and get stronger, my time will come on down," he said. "I'm not concerned with that now. I just want to compete in as many national meets as I can and get all that experience."

His performance in the AAU meet last month qualified him for the AAU summer meet in Los Angeles. He also qualified in the 500-yard freestyle with a 20th place finish.

"I guess I sort of like to swim the 1650 better because I have a chance to make up for my mistakes," he said. "And, if I feel good it gives me a chance to feel good longer."

Many top swimmers give up the sport early because of the daily grind.

"Some of the people . . . the competition gets to them," Miles said. "I guess it just takes wanting to do it and having a coach who will make you do it. You can make it through the practice if you have the desire."

"I know I can keep up my desire this summer, but it will be hard to keep it up next winter," he said. "During the winter season you work hard from Sept. 1 and the nationals aren't until April."

Miles' plans call for swimming to pay his way through college.

Pat began swimming when he was eight and currently holds several Arkansas records. For that, he has sacrificed.

"When you've been doing something for eight years, it just becomes part of you," he said. "If you want to do something bad enough and are willing to be a perfectionist at it, then you've got to sacrifice something for it. I guess I gave up my social life. But I don't regret it."

Abortion Cemetery Is Planned

By BEVERLY PETERSON
Associated Press Writer
HONOLULU (AP) - Robert Pearson, who led the fight against Hawaii's new liberal abortion law, says he is setting up a national cemetery for aborted children.

"It will be similar to the cemetery for unknown soldiers, only it will be for unknown souls," Pearson said Wednesday.

"I think it is about time we regard them the same as any other human being who dies. They shouldn't end up in incinerators or disposals."

Pearson, a Maui contractor, said he is working with an attorney and others to set up the cemetery but hasn't decided yet whether it will be in Hawaii.

There have been 587 abortions performed in Honolulu hospitals since Hawaii's new abortion law passed March 10. It requires only that a patient be a state resident for at least 90 days and that the abortion be performed by a licensed physician in an accredited hospital.

Pearson said he spent $7,000 fighting the bill's passage and another $3,000 since trying to convince pregnant women not to have the operation.

Pearson has offered to pay all expenses for pregnant women contemplating abortion to come to Maui and "think things over." He said if they decide against an abortion, he would pay all medical bills for the baby's delivery.

Only seven women have taken him up on the offer, he said. "Many probably thought it was a hoax because no strings were attached," he said.

Three of the women were California residents and the others came from Colorado, North Carolina, Indiana and Georgia. Six were unmarried. All decided against abortion, Pearson said.

"They are normal, everyday people and some of them were very upset," he said. "They needed counseling but psychiatrists were not necessary. They just needed someone showing love and concern for them."

State Board Criticized for Rehiring

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) - State Rep. Jerry Bookout of Jonesboro criticized the Arkansas State University Board of Trustees Wednesday for voting to renew the contracts of two professors.

The board previously had voted 3-2 to support a decision of the administration not to renew the contracts of Dr. Bill Stroud and Dr. Ron Hayworth, but this week, by the same margin, the trustees reversed their decision and decided to grant new contracts.

Dr. Carl R. Reng, ASU president, had previously supported the recommendation not to renew the contracts for the two professors, but changed his mind on Hayworth.

Bookout, in a prepared statement, indicated that he believed turmoil on the campus and the actions of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller played a part in Reng's decision to change his mind.

The board's move can "only weaken the president's position and his ability to lead," Bookout said.

Smokers Rebreathe Some of Air Exhaled

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q-In what way would moderate cigarette smoking, over a period of 20 years without ever inhaling, affect the lungs?

A-Smoking cigarettes without inhaling is a good trick if you can do it. This shouldn't cause any lung damage, but recent studies have shown that smokers rebreathe a certain amount of the air they exhale and that it may contain a dangerous level of carbon monoxide, the silent killer.

Q-Does smoking cigarettes affect a person's vision?

A-The carbon monoxide in the smoke, especially if inhaled, can cause impaired vision. The smoke in the exhaled air may irritate your conjunctiva.

Q-My husband, 72, is seldom without a pipe in his mouth. He has a habit of rubbing the hot pipe stem over his lips. Could this lead to cancer of the lips?

A-Yes.

Q-Why do the capillaries in a woman's legs enlarge to form spider veins? Can they be prevented by taking vitamins?

A-The so-called spider veins are associated with aging and with pregnancy. In some persons, they may be an inherited trait. They can't be prevented by diet or drugs.

Q-There are several prominent capillaries on the surface of my nose. Is electrolysis the best way to get rid of them? Would this be done by a plastic surgeon or a skin specialist?

A-These capillaries can be removed with an electric needle by a skin specialist but new ones may keep on forming. In the long run, masking cosmetics may be the best treatment.

Q-What causes pseudomonas? Is there any cure for it?

A-The Pseudomonas aeruginosa is a pus-forming bacterium commonly found in water and soil. It will not invade healthy tissues but may gain a foothold in a wound or in the body of a person who has been taking antibiotics. (Ordinarily, such pus-forming germs as staphylococci hold it in check.)

If the infection is localized, washing the wound with 1 per cent acetic acid may be all that is needed. For a persistent infection, nitrofurazone, streptomycin and tetracycline are effective if they can be brought into contact with the infected part.

More U.S. Aid Asked for Drug Addiction
By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Leading New York political figures from both parties have launched a joint effort for more federal help to stave off a drug problem they say has reached plague levels.
Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, emerging from a private strategy meeting with members of his state's congressional delegation, said Wednesday the fight against drug abuse "has spread to the schools and even from the high schools down into the elementary schools."
Rockefeller said he would seek President Nixon's backing for a private strategy meeting with members of his state's congressional delegation, said Wednesday the fight against drug abuse "has spread to the schools and even from the high schools down into the elementary schools."
The governor also said he agreed with Democratic Rep. Edward I. Koch, who told newsmen heroin addiction has become a plague in New York City with 100,000 addicts.
Rep. Emanuel Celler, a Brooklyn Democrat, said attempts also would be made to discourage importation of drugs from other nations.
Koch said the delegation urged that "countries like France, Turkey and other countries that are the suppliers of heroin that comes into the country... be held responsible."
"And when the foreign aid bill comes up," he added, "we're going to think of some way where we can impress upon those countries they can't be the recipients of money from this country when they are selling poison to the kids in this country."
Rep. Shirley Chisholm, a Democrat and the only black woman in Congress, said the drug problem "now has penetrated just about every class and every ethnic group in our society."
Koch said more than money "we need real enforcement on the part of the police officials, we need to involve the communities... and we've got to get across the educational aspect."
Meanwhile, Democratic Rep. Bertram L. Podell, of Brooklyn, said drug addiction costs the American public $5 billion a year in crime because many addicts steal to support their habit. He called for $200 million for drug centers to offer a wide range of services for heroin addicts.
He also introduced a resolution calling on the United Nations to buy the world's heroin supply at its source.

STRENGTHEN THROUGH

FAMILY TIES REGULAR WORSHIP

"FROM HERE"

...it appears our world needs a lot of 'fixin up'." Too often, too many of us do our day-to-day job in a half-hearted way. We lose our perspective... our relationship to the world. We get to feeling our importance. Right there is our un-doing. When a man loses humility, he is on the way out. This man, with his wrench, looks at the world from way up. He wonders if he did his best on the foundation underneath him... if the high walls will support the structure he is atop. Both are basic to good building. The church, too, is necessary in the building of character, in the transforming of souls. It will help us greatly in the training of people to help fix our world. It will make good stewards of us who will be more anxious to share the fruit of the vine. So let us attend church or Synagogue every week. Let us, in earnest, help this man 'fix up' our world.

How About Washing Hope's Dirty Linen at Home—Instead of Taking It to Texarkana?

This morning's Texarkana Gazette published an interview with Homer C. Kennedy, Hope plumber, in which the local man said he has circulated a petition with more than 500 signatures seeking an election to throw out Hope's city manager form of government and re-establish the mayor-council form.

If you wonder why Hope municipal news happens to be published first in a foreign newspaper you are entitled to an explanation—and this is it:

About two weeks ago Mr. Kennedy approached me in the Town & Country restaurant with a petition, identifying it as being for an election to throw out the city-manager government—and I refused to sign it.

However, since it was a prime piece of news, I reported the incident to our office and gave instructions to get a story on the petition.

Someone on the staff talked to Mr. Kennedy and reported the latter wanted The Star to hold off on publishing any story—on the grounds it would hinder circulation of the petition—and that he, Mr. Kennedy, would give the word when release of the news was satisfactory.

Neither Managing Editor Paul H. Jones nor I ever got the word.

Apparently then, Mr. Kennedy drove over to Texarkana in a fit of pique and cranked up a foreign laundry to wash the soiled linen of his home town.

I admit to an error in judgment in accepting Mr. Kennedy's request for a delay in publication two weeks ago. But what could I do? Mr. Kennedy was in effect saying if we published anything about his petition we would be trying to damage it, thereby protecting the city-manager government from attack.

But after asking us for this favor he paid us back by running out to another city to talk about his home town.

I don't trust the city-manager government. But neither do I trust Mr. Kennedy.

The reason I wouldn't sign his petition must be obvious. I felt he was capitalizing on The Star's campaign against City Hall for its failure to build a water pipeline to Millwood Reservoir—using this monumental issue to help him square some picayune plumber's grudge against officialdom.

Conceivable we might some time mount a petition ourselves to throw out the city-manager form of government—but not now, and certainly not with a leader having no more credence than Mr. Kennedy.

The Star has two fundamental complaints against the city-manager form:

1. It delays instead of taking bold action to assure an adequate water supply which is the key to Hope's industrialization and future growth—and security.

2. It seeks and accepts millions of federal tax dollars for discretionary local ventures such as public housing and urban renewal—without ever offering local taxpayers a referendum in which to express approval or disapproval.

The city-manager form is in principle a superior form of local government. But how in actual practice does it differ from the old mayor-council system which it replaced?

That's a good question. But not a question Mr. Kennedy can answer.

We might throw out the city-manager system on worthwhile issues—such as failure to build a pipeline for water, or refusal to give the people a vote on squandering federal tax money.

But to call for an election on the say-so of a disgruntled plumber who doesn't honor his own pledges—that is ridiculous.

Says Move Casts Doubt on President

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration forces in the Senate, facing an uphill fight, say approval of restrictions on U.S. military spending in Indochina would cast doubt on President Nixon's judgment and credibility.

Republican Whip Robert P. Griffin of Michigan told newsmen Thursday Senate approval of the Church-Cooper amendment to bar further use of U.S. troops in Cambodia "would suggest the President doesn't mean what he says and that the Senate doesn't believe him."

It appears to question his judgment. It appears to question his word a commander-in-chief," declared Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., in a floor speech.

Griffin and Dole made their comments as the administration sent a top-level three-man team to lobby at a closed-door meeting for the support of the 43-member GOP bloc.

Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird, national security adviser Henry Kissinger and Undersecretary of State Elliot Richardson told the divided Republicans the administration vigorously opposes approval of any amendment appearing to tie the President's hands in Southeast Asia.

Reaction to the session was mixed. Some senators came away saying Nixon seems bent on forcing a constitutional confrontation, but others said they saw no such prospects.

The floor debate, meanwhile, moved swiftly to the heart of the issue—the President's powers to protect U.S. troops whether Congress restricts funds or not.

Voting on the first in a series of amendments aimed at curbing funds was put off until next week at the earliest, probably Tuesday.

Republicans denied any intention to stall. But Griffin conceded to a newsmen delay won't hurt administration efforts to defeat or water down the crucial Cooper-Church amendment to a $300-million foreign military sales bill.

Although Griffin would not comment, other GOP leaders said the amendment would carry.

McIntire Is Expecting Busloads

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — The Rev. Carl McIntire of Collingwood, N.J., said in a rally here Thursday night that he was expecting "busloads" of marchers from out-of-state to participate in the June 5 Vietnam Victory rally in Little Rock.

McIntire told an audience of about 175 persons, that busloads of supporters from Philadelphia, Oklahoma City, Kansas City, Detroit, St. Louis and Washington will come to Little Rock for the rally at the state Capitol.

McIntire has said previously that he chose Arkansas for the rally because of the views of Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who favors withdrawal from Vietnam.

In a speech to gather support for his rally, McIntire criticized Fulbright.

He called Fulbright "the voice of Hanoi in the United States Senate."

McIntire said he supported Nixon's decision to send troops into Cambodia. He questioned why the action had not been taken earlier.

On student dissent, McIntire said that the conflict on the campuses could possibly lead to the revolution. He said the youth of the country "have been led astray and must be led back to the basic idea of freedom."

"America must be delivered from the Communist conspiracy, and surely those who believe in God ought to provide the leadership," he said.

At the end of his speech, he asked the audience to pledge funds for his campaign. He asked for donations starting with $100 down to $1.

Economic Picture Is Gloomy But Still a Slowdown, No Crisis

By JOHN M. PEARCE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The newest government statistics paint a picture of gloom, a full-fledged economic slowdown not at the crisis stage but still troublesome.

Despite the uncontradicted negative figures indicating lower profits and higher prices, the Nixon administration remains publicly convinced its policies are working and business will start upward sometime between June and December.

"We're traveling a narrow path between recession and inflation," said a White House spokesman.

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52s have struck at North Vietnamese supply trails and depots in eastern Laos, informed sources say. The depots are reportedly jammed with war materials that allied offensives have kept out of Cambodia.

Disorders Close Ohio University

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University President Claude R. Sowle ordered the school closed early today after 1,000 National Guard troops were ordered into the city following day-long campus disorders.

Sowle said the school would be closed until the beginning of the summer quarter June 22.

Gov. James A. Rhodes sent the troops in after students raced through the downtown area breaking windows and clashing with police Thursday night.

Deferments for graduates are banned.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The director of the State Selective Service issued a reminder Thursday that college seniors graduating this spring will receive no new occupational deferment from the draft unless the deferment was requested before April 23.

Col. Willard A. Hawkins made the statement at a news conference.

President Nixon issued an executive order April 23 permitting no new occupational deferments unless the deferment is in the national interest.

Hawkins said he did not know how many persons the new deferment rules would affect, but added that the order would prevent graduating seniors from entering teaching careers until they have completed their military obligations. The same guidelines include graduating engineers as well as other professional school graduates.

Hawkins said almost three times as many persons are receiving student deferments as there are fully qualified registrants in the selective service manpower pool.

2 Killed at Jackson, Miss. College

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Police fired into a crowd outside a dormitory at predominantly-Negro Jackson State College in Mississippi early today, killing two black students and bringing to six the number who have died in the current wave of campus unrest.

Nine other persons, all but two of them students, were wounded by the fusillade which followed reports of rock-throwing at passing motorists.

The deaths brought to six the number of persons fatally shot since protests erupted last week on the nation's campuses over President Nixon's decision to send U.S. troops into Cambodia.

Four students were shot to death early last week during a confrontation with Ohio National Guardsmen at Kent State University. Guard officials said a sniper had fired first but students disputed the report.

Witnesses in Jackson today said the policemen confronted a crowd of men standing in front of the dormitory and opened with a 7 to 10 second barrage after hearing a sound like a shot or a firecracker.

Neither police nor the college issued a statement on the shooting or the cause of the rock throwing.

There has been discontent on the campus for some time, with many students claiming too many blacks are sent to Vietnam immediately after graduation.

After the shooting, students screamed at the policemen from windows of other dormitories while students in front of the building dropped to the ground to take cover.

National Guard troops in armored personnel carriers with 30-caliber machine guns were moved on to the scene on the 3,500-student campus.

Hinds County Coroner B. R. Billock identified the dead as James Earl Green and Phillip L. Gibbs, 21. He said autopsies would be performed.

Another 11 persons were treated for minor injuries after the violence. All were black except a highway patrolman who received minor laceration.

One student said, "They said somebody shot but it was just a bottle. It made a popping sound when it hit."

In Athens, Ohio, the president of Ohio University ordered the school closed early today after 1,000 National Guardsmen were ordered into the city following day-long campus disorders.

Police earlier fired tear gas to disperse about 2,000 rock-throwing students at the school while the highway patrol sealed off the southwestern Ohio town of 17,000 people.

An aide to Gov. James A. Rhodes, who ordered the guardsmen onto the Kent State campus last week, said there was no immediate plan to use them at Ohio University.

Israel Shoots Down Soviet Made Planes

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli pilots claimed shooting down three Soviet-made Egyptian MIG jets in dogfights over the Suez Canal today.

By Israeli account, two MIG17s were shot down in morning battles over the blocked waterway and a MIG21 shortly after noon.

All three planes were seen falling in Egyptian territory, the military command said here.

The MIG21 had "attempted to interfere" when Israeli planes were on a bombing and strafing mission against Egyptian military targets along the central sector of the canal, a spokesman said.

It was the second Israeli raid of the day and followed two Egyptian strikes.

All Israeli aircraft returned safely, the spokesman said.

Planes Blast Supply Lines Into Laos

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52s struck today at North Vietnamese supply trails and depots in eastern Laos jammed with war materials that the allied offensive have kept out of Cambodia, informed sources said.

The sources said the supplies were backed up in Laos because allied operations on a dozen fronts inside Cambodia have deprived the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong of many base camps at the end of the Ho Chi Minh trail.

"All those supplies are moving from North Vietnam and there's no where to put them," said one source.

The sources said the raids extended from south of the Mu Gia pass in North Vietnam along more than 200 miles of the Laotian frontier. They were the heaviest in the Laos pantangle in two weeks.

Scores of smaller Navy tactical fighter-bombers flying off three 7th Fleet carriers in the Gulf of Tonkin also raided supply routes and depots in Laos.

The allied commands began pulling additional forces out of Cambodia and switching others around to explore previously untouched zones.

Mental Patient Apparently Shot Himself

SHEFFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A former mental patient wanted in the shooting deaths of three Veterans Administration Hospital officials apparently shot himself as officers closed in on him, police say.

Coleman G. Gish, 45, was spotted Thursday by an off-duty state trooper who was going fishing near Sheffield, 150 miles northwest of Danville, scene of the triple slayings Wednesday.

Trooper William Rosenow said he drove past a car parked on a gravel road and saw a man who fit Gish's description drinking beer and eating a hamburger. The car sped off and Rosenow said he radioed for help.

Three other troopers and the Sheffield town marshal answered the call. As they approached Gish's car, Marshal Peter Minnaert said, the man shot himself in the head with a .38-caliber pistol.

Authorities obtained a murder warrant for Gish after a man fitting his description wandered through the VA hospital in Danville and fatally shot three persons and wounded a fourth.

Gish had been released from the hospital two years ago.

The spot where he died was about 10 miles from his hometown of Buda.

Apparently Conditions Were Just Right for a Strike in Cambodia

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — "is becoming increasingly apparent the Nixon administration decided to hit the enemy sanctuaries in Cambodia because the right conditions had arisen, rather than as a result of a major new military threat."

The key to opening the way for U.S. and South Vietnamese forces to hit the enemy's long-secure base complex was the overthrow in March of Cambodia's neutralist chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

Until the new regime led by Premier Lon Nol took over, the United States felt it had to respect Cambodia's neutrality and its borders.

But the change presented a new situation, the importance of which in administration thinking can be seen in the statements of U.S. officials in their lengthy discussions of the Cambodian operation.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has said: "For a long period of time there have been political considerations—international political considerations—inter-

First Dean of Women at Christian Brothers College Is Hope Woman

By ALICE FULBRIGHT
Memphis Commercial Appeal

The First dean of women at Christian Brothers College will be a golden-haired woman in her 20's who is at present the whistle-provoking head of CBC's speech department.

She is Mrs. Philip Carruth, who cautioned, "I'm not even sure I'll be called a dean. I was really appointed assistant to the director of admissions for female students."

Her appointment has followed closely CBC's recent announcement that it would become a coeducational institute with the fall semester this year, breaking a 99-year tradition of all-male enrollment.

"I'm excited and slightly scared," Mrs. Carruth said the other day in her bright and feminine office near an austere hallway in Kendrick Hall on campus. "A lot of the brothers haven't been around women for a long time and don't understand them."

"But the fact that I'm young—I'm the youngest of the seven women on our faculty—is part of the reason they wanted me to be the dean. There's so much emphasis today on being under 30—I'm not quite 28—in order to communicate with the young. I don't believe, myself, that being under 30 is that important."

Born in Hope, Ark., the former Edwina Whitman obtained a BA degree from Louisiana Polytechnic Institute and a master's degree from the University of Arkansas in speech and dramatic arts.

While she was teaching speech at Southeastern Louisiana College at Hammond, she met and married Philip Carruth, who is now a senior dental student at the University of Tennessee Medical Units.

"We certainly don't intend to start a family until after next year at least," said the dean-elect. "Philip is as excited as I am about this. He thinks it's great. He's ambitious for me—in fact, it would be perfectly all right with him if I went ahead and got my doctorate."

The Carruths live only a block away from CBC at 650 Landis—"practically on campus," she said. "And right now I have a 9 to 4 job, five days a week."

Faubus Changes Plan for Annoucement

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) — Former Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today that he had changed a scheduled announcement of his political plans from Saturday to May 20.

Faubus had said in a May 1 television presentation that he would announce Saturday whether he would seek the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

In a prepared statement today, Faubus said he was changing the date of his announcement to give the weekly and small daily newspaper a better break on the story.
